    - Kansas Board of Regents has approved this course and has a certain standard to follow-
    - Working though those standards from the Board of Regents right now
    - Exploring synchronous and asynchronous(pre-recorded/self-study) options
      - Comments from asynchronous session- CHWs are not as satisfied- lack of interaction and heavy on reading/self-paced work
    - Examples: Missouri has done courses like this

- GCCC is doing asynchronous with their CNAs/CMAs and then in person for their clinicals
- Invite GCCC representatives to committee to be able to ask more questions to
- KBOR requires completion of a rubric for a credit-earning class to be offered a "hybrid" as defined by KBOR. Here's the website that K-State has that includes these definitions: <https://www.k-state.edu/registrar/instructionalmode/coursemodalities/index.html>
